AJP Layout Style
Authors should take the appearance of a recent article in the printed version of the Journal as a rough guide for the production and layout of a finished typescript. The following general pattern must be followed in production of a final version for the Editor:

TITLE
Author(s)
Abstract
Key Words (if any)

1. Introduction

Text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text
text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text
text text text text text text text text text text text text text
text text text text text text text text text text text text text
Footnote (NOT endnote).

2. What Does a Logical Constant Mean?

Text text text text text text text text text text text text . . . as we see in the following remarks:

Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote Blockquote [source year: page]

Text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

2.1 The Core Tenets of Inferential Role Semantics

Text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

New paragraph text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

Footnote (NOT endnote).

2.1.1 New Arguments in Semantics

Text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

New paragraph text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

3. The Implications of Logical Constants

Text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

New paragraph text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text text

Institutional Affiliation [Follow the main text with the title of your affiliated institution; if none, then city name.]

REFERENCES [See ‘Citations and References’ for the references style.]